MNA CRIME PREVENTION POLICY

The MNA, at all times, seeks to promote fundamental British values that relate to Democracy, Individual Liberty, Mutual Respect and Tolerance and the Rule of Law.

Should any member become aware that another member, or members are being drawn into terrorism, or other criminal activities they should, in the first instance, report the matter to the police. Unless advised otherwise, by the police, they should then advise the National Secretary and, if appropriate the local branch chairman.
